Article VI

Meetings

There shall be 2 types of formal meetings:

- 1) General Meeting – for the purpose of informing the General Membership and addressing the concerns of the General Membership. Any vote carried out at these meetings shall include all General Voting Members present with no opportunity to proxy vote. A General Meeting shall take place no less than once per semester in an academic year and be announced to the General Membership no less than 2 weeks before the date of the General Meeting. Attendance and voting shall be possible virtually as well as in person at a physical destination, the location of which shall be announced no less than 2 days before the date of the General Meeting.
- 2) Council Meeting – for the purpose of planning events, keeping Council Members updated on the dealings of other Council Members, and passing Council-level motions. Any vote carried out at these meetings shall include all Council Membership present with the opportunity for an absent and excused Council Member to submit a General Voting Member as a proxy voter. A proxy voter shall only vote on the behalf of one Council

Carleton University Biomedical Engineering Society (CUBES)

Member and must be submitted to the Vice-President Internal or President in the case of a Vice-President Internal absence by the absent Council Member no less than 2 days before the date of the Council Meeting. A Council Meeting shall happen no less than once a month in a society year and be announced to the Council Membership no less than 2 days before the date of the Council Meeting. Attendance and voting shall be possible virtually and can, but does not need to, be possible in person at a physical destination, the location of which shall be announced no less than 2 days before the date of the Council Meeting.

A meeting shall be classified by the type of membership invited regardless of the ability of the meeting to meet this specified criteria. Reasonable argument shall be documented for the failure to meet any given criteria within the minutes of the meeting.

Article VII

Elections

There shall be two elections per society year:

- 1) Primary Council Election
- 2) Representative Election

A Primary Council Election shall be conducted with the purpose of electing the Primary Elected Council for the following society year. A Primary Council Election shall be concluded by the last day of March. General Voting Membership shall be informed of the election at least 2 weeks prior to the election date. General Voting Members shall be enabled to vote for a 24 hour period through an online ballot on the election date. Eligible candidates for the role of President are General Voting Members of at least one year that have previously held Council Membership and are running for no other role. Eligible candidates for all other Primary Elected Council roles are General Voting Members of at least one year that are running for no other role.

A Representative Election shall be conducted with the purpose of electing the Representative Elected Council for the following academic year. A Representative Election shall be concluded on the last day of September. General Voting Membership shall be informed of the election at least 2 weeks prior to the election date. General Voting Members shall be enabled to vote for a 24 hour period through an online ballot on the election date. Eligible candidates for all Representative Elected Council roles are General Voting Members that hold the year standing of the year they are running to represent and are not currently part of the Council Membership.

For both elections, an Election Officer shall be appointed by the majority vote of the Council Membership. An eligible Election Officer is an impartial General Voting Member choosing to abstain from voting and running in the election they govern. The Election Officer shall be responsible for the running of a fair election in accordance with the Society's Constitution.

Article VIII

Impeachment and Discipline

In the case that a Council Member:

- 1) Is not fulfilling their duties as defined by contract,
- 2) Violates the Society's Constitution,
- 3) Or violates any of CUSA's governing documents

The President and Vice-President Internal maintain the right to add a strike to the Council Member's annual record. The Council Member in question shall be informed of an added strike to their record within 48 hours. In the case that a Council Member holds three strikes on the annual record, the Council Membership shall vote to impeach the Council Member.

Impeachment shall be conducted at a Council Meeting, scheduled within two weeks of a Council Member receiving their third strike. An impeachment shall be the first item to be discussed at a Council Meeting. The Council Member in question shall be given the opportunity to speak to the motion. The Council Member in question shall not be present when the impeachment motion is voted upon. The impeachment motion must achieve a majority vote to be passed.

Article IX

Amendments and Supplementaries

The Council Membership maintains the power to adopt amendments to the Society's Constitution so long as they do not contradict the existing Constitution. Amendments require a majority vote by Council Membership to be adopted.

The Council Membership maintains the power to adopt supplementary documents such as role contracts and event dossiers into the Society's law so long as they do not contradict the existing Constitution. Supplementary documents require a majority vote by Council Membership to be adopted.

The Council Membership maintains the power to adopt a new Constitution. This motion requires a majority vote to pass if it is the first Constitution discussed in the society year at the first Council Meeting of the society year, or unanimous agreement if it is a subsequent Constitution proposal.

The Constitution is to be read over and accepted by the Council Membership at the first Council Meeting of the society year, and accepted by every new Council Member added throughout the society year. The Constitution shall be understood by the General Membership at the first General Meeting of the academic year.
